NUMBER 84 • APRIL 2009

Fund raising becomes our priority

As we enter tough economic times ahead, it will also be a tough time for our dogs. Because it will take funding for Endangered Breeds Association to continue the fight for your right to own the breed of dog you choose.

EBA's funding began with donations and memberships in the early 1980s with just over $1,000 in its coffers. It has grown through the years to a balance of more than $25,000 today; and a $50,000 CD in reserve. Along the way, we have been able to fight legislation in many states, as well as Canada, Italy and Spain. Memberships have grown and those who show their dogs in American Dog Breeders Association shows have contributed greatly.

In 1990, the late Ralph Greenwood, president and CEO of ADBA, proposed a check-off from dog show entries of 50 cents per dog which would go directly to EBA. Through the years it grew to $1 per dog, then $2 per dog, and finally back down to $1 per dog. These check-offs have resulted in providing more than three-quarters of EBA's annual funding.

But 2009 will be a different story. ADBA no longer will require its sanctioned dog clubs to send EBA $1 per dog EBA uses the funds from this $1 per dog check-off to fight breed specific legislation and other animal ordinances and legislation throughout the United States and Canada.

The check-off from entry fees is a fair way to involve everyone in helping fund EBA, which, in turn, fights for your rights to own the dog of your choice. Not only members of EBA pay the $1 per dog which is included in their

Texas a hot spot in nation

The Texas Legislature only convenes every other year, and representatives must have been working overtime to come up with so many dog related proposals.

Endangered Breeds Association, Responsible Dog Owners Alliance, American Dog Breeders Association, American Kennel Club, United Kennel Club and many, many other dog breed groups are uniting to fight these proposals.

EBA has a special Texas fund set up and donations can be sent to EBA, Rt. 1, Box 71, Gore, OK 74435; or to RPOA, 900 NE Loop 410 #311-D, San Antonio, TX 78209. Donations to EBA should be noted as for "Texas Fund."

Here is a listing of bills:

SB 634/HB 2001 -

Eliminates any legally acceptable means of tethering and requires a minimum kennel size of 150 square feet per dog. Does not allow dogs outside in any fashion during inclement weather.

Auction another success

The crowd turned out and auctioneer Gary Hammonds of Texas conducted another successful auction to benefit Endangered Breeds Association during the annual ADBA convention in Las Vegas last month.

The auction brought in $3,325 and Joel Halverson, former EBA board member from Oregon, held a raffle of special items he brought to the convention. Half of the proceeds, or $370, went to EBA, making the night's efforts worth $3,695.

Donors of auction items were Linda Emmert, Jean Carpenter, Kim Krohn, Doris Hutson, Lucretia Ashcraft, JoAnn LeBlanc, Joan Morrison, Molly Gibb, Joyce Gibb, Gibb Enterprises, Robert and Marlene McCabe, Jodie Hangar, Bark Avenue Custom Embroidery, Joel Halverson, Nathan Pilgrim, Roger Wolf, Randi Chapman, Jan and Kent Banyon, Sam and Tina Villani, Bulldog Supply, Ed and Jeanne Hinkle, Northern California Pit Bull Club, Animal Farm Foundation and Bulldogs of the Rockies.

The atmosphere was hectic, and if we've forgotten any of our donors, we sincerely apologize.

Funding

entry fees; but the hundreds of people who attend dog shows who are not members of EBA also help in the fight by paying the $1 per dog.

Your board of directors, elected by the membership of EBA, will be looking at ways to get new funding; and will be looking at ways to cut expenses. One example could be a savings of more than $1,000 per year by making the quarterly newsletter available only by e-mail or by downloading it from our website. This and other possibilities will be discussed at length by the board.

And please remember, no person serving on the board of directors of EBA receives compensation of any kind for their tireless service.

Everyone is a VOLUNTEER.

Just to let you know how EBA spends the funds it receives, postage is one of our bigger expenses. Every time there is a legislative alert; or a city/county ordinance alert; EBA sends a letter to the officials of that town, county or state. In 2008, for example, letters were sent to towns in Arkansas, Canada, Colorado, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia and Washington.

Already in 2009, contacts have been made in California, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee, Texas and Washington state.

During 2008, EBA used funds you helped generate to pay for lobbyists or attorneys in Colorado, Arkansas, Canada, Oklahoma and Texas, spending $14,006.35.

In 2007/2008, in Kansas and Missouri, three cases were won - in Topeka, Kansas City and Independence - that resulted in three American Pit Bull Terriers being saved.

In Oklahoma, three cases were won and several others were averted after cities were informed of the other successful cases in state courts. American Pit Bull Terriers were saved in Del City, OK; Bull Terriers were saved in Midwest City; and any dogs that may resemble a bulldog of any breed were saved in Oklahoma City's animal shelter.

These are just a few examples of how our funds are used.

The entire board of Endangered Breeds Association thanks you for your support; and as we enter these tough economic times, we plead for your continued support. Your continued membership will become even more important in the fight to save our dogs. We cannot help you keep your right to own the breed of dog you choose without funding.

Ask yourselves how important it is to you to be able to keep an American Pit Bull Terrier, or similar "bully" breed, as a pet.

Texas

HB 458 - Allows your county to limit the number of dogs you may legally own, even if you live in an unincorporated area with no HOA or deed restrictions.

SB 554 and HB 1147 - Defines many common items (dog bowls, collars, leashes) as dog-fighting paraphernalia.

HB 925 - Considers a "pit bull" to be dangerous enough to prohibit minors from caring for them. This is a breed-specific bill.

SB 1845 and HB 4277 - Statewide mandatory spay/neuter ordinance. This requires animals to be altered by 6 months of age, before their conformation, health and temperament can be fully evaluated.

HB 3180 and SB 1910 - Commercial kennel regulations that will end up affecting hobby breeders. Right now it applies to anyone with 11 or more intact female animals whether being bred or not.

HB 1982 - Dangerous dog

bill and breed-specific legislation without being "BSL." It would allow dogs to be declared "vicious" and face the same sanctions as "dangerous" dogs without ever being at large or harming anyone (i.e., based on a report from a neighbor).

Bans any off-lead activities for dogs over 40 pounds in cities over 1 million population.

And owners should SUPPORT HB 1046 which allows citizens to appeal seizures in animal cruelty cases.

Currently, people are at the mercy of incompetent or biased justices with no right to a real trial OR an appeal.

Texas' legislative session only lasts until June 1, so the fight for Texas dog owners of ANY breed is NOW.

Make your voice be heard with your representatives and senators. Donate to the organizations which are fighting for your rights.

Around the nation: Breeder

Here is a listing of “breeder bills” which have been introduced to various state legislatures this year. If you see your state listed, you should contact your representatives and senators to voice your opinion. Some bills may have had further action EBA is not aware of.

Each state has a website where these individuals can be found.

Arkansas - SB 864 calls for a license if 12 or more dogs or cats are kept. Authorities may inspect for violations without warrant.

<http://www.arkleg.state.ar.us/assembly/2009/R/Bills/SB864.pdf>

California - AB 241 - limit of 50 dogs or cats that are intact; euthanasia must be by vet. Assigned to local government committee.

LANCASTER, CA - Mayor Rex Parris may target pit bulls and Rottweilers as an anti-gang measure. The city is considering adopting stiff penalties for owners of “potentially dangerous” and “vicious” dogs. Ordinance also would require spay/neuter of all varieties of pit bulls and Rottweilers, including mutts that have physical characteristics of those breeds.

CA AB 233 introduced by

Assembly Member Cameron Smyth (R-38) of Granada Hills addresses pet adoption fees.

CA AB 242 introduced by Assembly Member Pedro Nava (D-35) of Santa Barbara would amend Penal Code Section 597.5 elevating defined dog fighting offenses from misdemeanor to felony and increasing state prison terms as mandated rather than alternative to a fine.

CA AB 250 introduced by Sen. Dean Florez, is purported to reduce shelter populations, but would make it easier to revoke licenses for intact dogs and cats in California.

Colorado - SB 1127 - Calls for limit of 25 animals. Defeated in first committee hearing.

Florida - S 2002 - Calls for limit of 50 animals. Filed 2-23-09. It closely resembles HSUS supported anti-breeder legislation.

<http://tinyurl.com/czjp5d>

Illinois - HB 0198 - License required if 3 or more females kept for sale of offspring; limit of 20 unaltered dogs.

<http://tinyurl.com/apmphl>

Indiana - HB 1468 - Pet dealer if you sell over 5 puppies a year. Registration as commercial breeder required if you breed 10 or more litters in a 12 month period. Limit of 30 intact animals, standards for confinement, breeding, selling, etc.

Appears to be on hold in Senate, pending possible revisions.

Kansas - Changes in animal control and protection rules are being proposed by the City of Wichita Department of Environmental Services. Community input will be sought through District Advisory Board meetings prior to presenting final recommendations to the City Council. Included are new regulations regarding pit bull ownership.

Missouri - Missouri Federation of Animal Owners is monitoring several bills. MOFED is keeping an eye on SB63, introduced by Sen. Rupp (RINO- St. Charles), which is a “dog fighting bill.” Dog fighting has been a felony in Missouri since 1984, so another law is not needed. This is actually a property forfeiture law and an HSUS backed measure. It would require owners to post a bond for the care of their dogs if the dogs were confiscated for fighting or suspected fighting. If the owner is unable to post the bond, the dogs could be destroyed in 30 days.

Maryland - HB 495/SB 318 - limit of 50 dogs for breeding purposes; if over 10 then enclosure size requirements and at least two exercise periods of two hours daily.

A BILL from Sen. Bruce Starr's office would make owning a pit bull illegal in Oregon and the state would punish those who own one by euthanizing the dog, slapping the owner with thousands of dollars in fines and perhaps even throwing them in jail.
And if your pit bull killed someone? Then you could be fined $125,000, spend five years in jail

have to obtain a permit to keep

Wins and progress in Fla. and Ohio

For the first time in 20 years, Dade County, FL (Miami area) had a challenge to its ban on pit bulls.

The case was about an alleged pit bull mix that met the county's fictitious 51 percent pit scale/chart and was banned. The owner took the dog to relatives and helped fight the restriction in Dade County.

Edel Miedes gave an outstanding deliberation on the specifics of the breed. He examined the dog himself and came prepared to defend it. Many animal investigators congratulated Dahlia Canes and others who defended the dog. "Most of them wanted BSL outta here too," Canes said. She is a representative of the Miami Coalition Against Breed Specific Legislation.

The judge ruled in favor of the dog as the county did not meet its burden of proof. This was based on facts presented, the ordinance's description of the dogs was vague; and any number of dogs could fall into the physical characteristics stated in the ordinance.

In Ohio, Representative Barbara Sears of Lucas County has introduced House Bill 79, which removes "pit bull" from Ohio's statutory definition of dangerous dogs.

Ohio is the only state to have enacted statewide breed-specific legislation. The current law states that if a dog "belongs to a breed that is commonly known as a pit bull", then it is automatically considered vicious and dangerous the the owner is required to submit reports to the board of health and a county dog warden whenever there is a transfer of ownership. Having BSL in state law has enabled Ohio cities and towns to enact strict ordinances regarding ownership of pit bulls.

Get involved in this legislation and contact your representatives urging them to support Sears' HB 79. Visit the Ohio General Assembly web site and type in your zip code in the "locating legislators" section of the home page to find representatives.

Pit Bulls in the spotlight

Mandy

North Kansas City High School students got an up-close visit with Mandy, an American pit bull terrier owned by EBA board member Russ Krohn, of Blue Springs, MO after a dog show fundraiser recently at the school.

The fundraiser was to help a 4-year-old girl, limited by quadriplegic cerebral palsy, blindness and other disorders, get a companion dog. The students are helping raise the money to pay for the dog's purchase, care and training.

Krohn and Mandy were part of the show of trained dogs in the school gym.

A faculty sponsor brought the wish to the attention of the high school's DECA business and marketing club, and students organized the dog show as one of the club's fundraisers to help get the dog for the child.

Attendance at the dog show was optional for students, but more than 350 paid $2 each to attend. Along with t-shirt and button sales, the club has raised $1,200 of the $2,000 needed.

Students watched volunteers from the Greater Kansas City Dog Training Club, which Krohn and Mandy belong to, run pooches of various breeds through exercises such as sitting still, walking beside their masters, fetching toys, jumping over barriers and lying down.

In Shawnee, OK, a man's pit bulls saved his life after he had a diabetic collapse. EBA member Debbie Gervais received a phone call from a neighbor who said the sick man's two pit bulls had come to his car when he came home from work.

The dogs are never out of their yard and they seemed anxious. The neighbor and Gervais and her husband went next door and found the diabetic man in the yard.

One pit bull remained by the sick man's side until help arrived.

"The dogs knew he needed help," Gervais said. "He couldn't get up and when we got to him he didn't know how long he had been lying in the yard."

EBA holds annual board meeting

The annual board meeting and report was part of the 2009 American Dog Breeders Convention in Las Vegas, NV Feb. 20 and 21.

President Jean Carpenter welcomed Judith Brecka of Los Angeles, CA as a return member of the board.

Seven individuals received awards from ADBA, and included Cheryl Buell of Kansas City, KS and Brent Toellner, Wellington, KS, for their work against BSL in their state and neighboring Missouri; Tesha Day, McComb, MS who hosts a nationwide "Pit Bull Awareness Day"; Liz Cowan, Hardin, TX, for her continued work at the Reliant AKC Dog Show in Houston, TX where she sets up a great pit bull information booth; Joe Boyd, Toledo, OH, for his continued work in the fight against BSL in his state; Zandra Anderson, Houston, TX, for her diligent work fighting BSL on the state and local levels; Jim Cortese, of New Mexico, for his legislative work and contacts to ADBA; and Kerry Neiman, of Texas, for his work in the Texas legislature.

Board member Lucretia Ashcraft gave a run-down of the many proposed bills introduced in the Texas legislature this year. EBA's Texas board members Ashcraft, JoAnn LeBlanc and Laura Dapkus are working with Texas dog clubs and Responsible Pet Owners Alliance of Texas to fight the proposals. The organizations are raising funds to pay a lobbyist and have received donations from EBA ($5,000), Texas dog owners and dog clubs, and matching funds of $5,000 from American Dog Breeders Association. Donations continue to come in to accounts set up by RPOA and by EBA where a special fund of earmarked donations for Texas has been established.

The deadline for nominations for board members has been changed to Oct. 15, with voting to be completed by Nov. 30. Notices will be posted in the Banter when
